

"The versatility of the Clarion Safety system enabled us to customize the labeling to the exact outcome we wanted for a wide-ranging age of equipment," says ConAgra safety official Anthony Yount.

Improving Safety in Food Processing

One of North America's leading packaged food companies, with a strong presence in U.S and international consumer grocery, restaurant, and food service establishments.

Clarion Safety assisted ConAgra's grain processing/food division safety committee to develop replacement labels and signs for plant equipment and machinery.

ANSI Z535.4 formats were the key elements in designing new templates for ConAgra's specific context of use requirements to improve communication and reduce injuries.
