Why ClarionAccess?

Safety and efficiency-minded OEMs face many challenges to keep up with today's demanding business climate and evolving customer expectations. Increase safety and business efficiency – and add value for your end user – with ClarionAccess, a turnkey system providing one central hub with safety resources and nearly unlimited information related to your products. This cutting-edge platform allows you to bridge the gap between your product and your end user's needs – all while ensuring the highest standards of safety.

Benefits for OEM's – From Buyers to Engineers, from Marketing Teams to the C-Suite

- Rest assured that you're working with a quality source for all your custom printing and safety labeling needs, enhancing business efficiency, reducing liability risk, and improving end user safety.

- Increase the effectiveness of your product safety program by unifying on-product warnings with supplementary safety training.

- Improve communication with end users by giving them easy access to key product resources (refreshing them with updates as often as needed) – and add value to your relationship by providing custom-developed product safety training.

Benefits for End Users

- Reinforce safety with workers through tailored training programs – reducing the potential for injuries – and advance liability protection by documenting completed trainings.

- Improve information accessibility with a central platform for all product information (from manuals to replacement parts) – available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

- Stay up-to-date with as-it-happens access to crucial updates related to your equipment, from software or documentation changes to recalls.
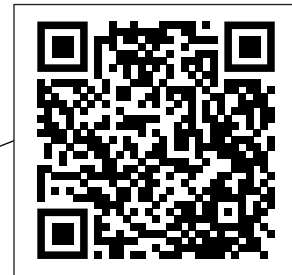

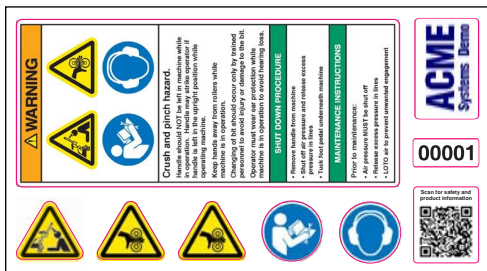

How Does ClarionAccess Work?

We'll provide decades of experience to optimize your label program, ensuring the use of best practices for safety communication while enhancing your cost structures. You'll receive a kit (in your preferred printed format) of all the labels needed for a particular machine: from safety and certification-related to logos and dataplates. This includes a QR-code label for the end user to quick-connect direct from the machine to the ClarionAccess platform.

ClarionAccess is built to your specifications with:

- Custom-Developed Safety Resources
  - Symbol/label library tailored to your on-product warnings
  - Training video related to your product's symbols/warnings
  - In-depth safety instructional video specific to your machine

- Product Resources
  - Product manual
  - Product documents (warranties, certifications and more)
  - Servicing and parts information

- Compliance and Reporting Tools
  - Notification of standards changes or best practice recommendations for your warnings
  - Certificates of completion for custom-built product trainings for tracking purposes
  - Usage reports of the ClarionAccess platform
