CLARION SAFETY LAUNCHES NEW ONLINE TOOLS TO HELP BUSINESSES CREATE CUSTOM LABELS AND SIGNS TO COMPLY WITH CALIFORNIA PROPOSITION 65 REQUIREMENTS

New online tools from Clarion Safety allow for customized CA Prop 65 labels and signs to be created online with ease and speed

Milford, PA – September 5, 2019 – Clarion Safety Systems, a leading designer and manufacturer of safety labels, signs and tags, has launched new online tools allowing customers to design their own custom labels and signs to meet California Proposition 65 requirements.

"This latest addition to our products and services is part of our ongoing commitment to anticipate and meet the needs of our valued customers," says Ron Crawford, CEO of Clarion Safety. "Whether they're working with Clarion Safety online or with representatives over the phone and face to face, our customers can expect world-class service and a dedication to providing solutions to bolster safety and efficiency. It's why we can proudly boast a customer satisfaction rating of more than 99%."

California Proposition 65 (known more commonly as Prop 65) requires companies that do business in California provide warnings before causing significant exposure to chemicals known to cause cancer or reproductive toxicity. That often means creating custom warning signs for workplaces or public environments and custom warning labels for products.

Clarion Safety's new online tools allow for the easy creation of custom Prop 65 safety labels and signs with the message needed for a specific application, including the chemical to be warned about. These custom labels and signs include a 'Warning' header and symbol, as well as the Proposition 65 warnings website, www.P65Warnings.ca.gov, needed for compliance. Users of the tool follow two simple steps of choosing their word message and size/material specifications, and can then send their label or sign directly to print.

These new tools are part of Clarion Safety's growing custom product line. The company has a full spread of online tools designed to allow its customers to 'create their own' products – from custom safety labels, signs and tags to custom printing projects related to branding, identification and asset management.
